

In Memoriam: Wellington

Readers of The Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night-time (this year's Freshman Common Reading at CSUN) know that the dog Wellington is discovered dead (alas!) in the book's first paragraph:

It was 7 minutes after midnight. The dog was lying on the grass in the middle of the lawn in front of Mrs. Shears's house. Its eyes were closed. . . . The dog was dead.

We invite you to commemorate Wellington's all-too-brief life by displaying the enclosed silhouette (upside down, please, to match the bookmark and the book) on a bulletin board or other prominent space in your office. Feel free to decorate Wellington's image in any way you like. Option: send a digital photo of your dog to cheryl.spector@csun.edu
