

MICHAEL D. EISNER
COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

California State University, Northridge
presents

Education on the EDGE

Speaker Series

Associate Professor of Communication at Stanford University,
Founding Director of Stanford's Virtual Human Interaction Lab,
& Director of Stanford's Digital Learning Forum

Jeremy Bailenson, Ph.D.

University
Student Union
Northridge Center

Tuesday
December 2, 2014
7:00-8:30pm

“The Virtual Revolution of Teaching and Learning”

As an expert on Virtual Reality, Dr. Bailenson will speak about cutting-edge research on virtual reality and how it's being applied in education. He will explain how virtual reality is beginning to find its way into classrooms as well as the potential for the future. Sound too expensive for your classroom? Well, perhaps not! Dr. Bailenson will discuss several low-cost ways you can start introducing this new and emerging technology into your classroom now!

This event is FREE, however, you must register at:

<http://www.CTLbailenson.eventbrite.com>

This just added: Come early at 6:30pm for a demo of TeachLive by Dr. Sally Spencer to see how CSUN is already using Virtual Reality!

Note: Parking passes are required and may be purchased for $6 at any campus information booth

California State University
Northridge