PROGRAM

WORKSHOP DESCRIPTIONS

Admissions requirements 101

This workshop provides a general overview of admissions requirements to middle school, high school and community college students.

Financial aid and scholarship

Learn about the programs and services that are available to help you pay for your education such as the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), grants and scholarships.

Why Asian-American studies matters: our past, present and future

Asian-American studies faculty, current students and alumni share their insights on how the major helps you navigate college and life. The workshop includes a speaker panel, arts and crafts, and a question-and-answer portion.

Community college 101

Learn how to prepare for admissions and an associate degree for transfer to California State University.

Engineering lab

Observe CSUN senior engineering students creating cutting-edge projects to enter in to national competitions.

Student panel

Get the student perspective on college life, the transition from high school to college and the ethnic experiences of today's multicultural student populations.

Tours

Take a guided tour showcasing CSUN led by student ambassadors.
