WORKSHOPS

(Map on back)

Communicating with Inclusive Language and a Growth Mindset	How and what we say to our students by using inclusive language in conversations, emails, and when providing positive and constructive feedback influences students in profound ways. While we do not intend to embarrass, discourage or belittle students, sometimes we do so, without understanding the consequences. Let us learn, reflect and share ways to enhance our communication with students so they feel supported, included, and academically motivated. Presenters: Mark Stevens, Freddie Sanchez ECC 2nd floor Pasadena
Diversity and Inclusion to Support Student Success	Diversity and inclusion resources and strategies to improve the student experience. Presenters: Natalie Mason-Kinsey, Barrett Morris NCC Reseda
Help Seeking: Support 101	This workshop will cover both sides of the coin— how to ask for help, how to offer help, and how to recognize the signs that someone needs help. We'll also discuss stigma, cultural influences, and the myths people have about emotional support and mental health. Finally, we'll discuss caring and tactful ways to encourage someone to seek help. Presenters: Judy Schmidt-Levy, Angel Legaspi ECC 2nd floor Burbank
Matador Advising Hub (aka The Hub)	Information session on the new freshman advising hub and highlights from the first semester. Presenter: Elizabeth Adams NCC Granada Hills
Positive and Supportive Communication for Student Success	Providing positive and supportive communication from a customer service perspective isn't just about a business transaction or a written notification, it's also about creating a sense of belonging. Sense of belonging leads to overall academic success. This session will talk about positive and supportive communication from a very broad perspective that any member of the CSUN community can apply to their work. We will talk about ways that all of us can make small changes in our communication that could have a broad, positive impact. Presenters: Matt Soto, Jessica Fred Northridge Center
Student Success Data Workshop	Join us for an inquiry-based exploration of the institutional data tools available to CSUN faculty, staff, and students. Presenters: Janet Oh, Grishma Bhavsar, Whitney Scott USU Computer Training Lab
Supporting Success for Students with Disabilities (accessibility strategies that support everyone)	This interactive workshop will cover the roles and responsibilities for various people on campus in ensuring that programs are accessible. This includes basic principles of accessible design for instructional materials and academic experiences, including video captioning and using Ally in Canvas, as well as information about faculty and departmental roles in ensuring that individualized accommodations are provided to students. Presenter: Jodi Johnson ECC 1st floor Panorama City
