

3D Graphical Representation of Object Oriented Program

Qi Wang

This graduate project implements a prototype of 3D representation of Object=Oriented Java programs. This prototype allows the user to view and navigate the class inheritance tree structure. It provides a three dimensional view representation that makes it easy for the user to navigate and view from any desired location. This prototype is developed using Java 2 and its three dimensional extension API called Java 3D API.

